County Committee to Study Affirmative Action Plan For Minority Group Members

Upon hearing some startling statistics presented by A. Miguel Rodriguez, executive director of the Tri-County Mexican-American Unity Council, the Monterey County Board of Supervisors announced that it will plan a program to higher a larger percent of minority group members as county employees.

Rodriguez told the board that of 2,149 full and part-time county positions, only 192 are held by minority group members.

He asked the supervisors to compare this with the population make-up of the county. He said that Mexican-Americans comprise 21.2 percent of the population; blacks 6.8 percent and Filipino-Americans and Orientals, some 3.5 percent.

Yet, he pointed out, Mexican-Americans hold only 7.07 percent of county jobs and blacks, 1.86 percent. While not citing specific percentages of jobs for the Filipino-Americans and Orientals, Rodriguez assured the supervisor that they too held less than a proportionate number of positions.

The supervisor ordered a multiracial committee formed to formulate the plan. It is to come up with a plan similar to the affirmative action plan that was signed earlier this year with the construction industry unions in the county.

The earlier agreement calls for employment of minorities in proportion to their percentage of the county population.

Rodriguez, along with attorney Jane Van Hook, was guiding light in the formulation of that agreement.

Under the plan proposed by Rodriguez, minority members would not replace any white county workers. But when openings occurred, they would be given preferential treatment and training.

The supervisors were also told of the plight of Filipino community members. Peter Tersol of Carmel and Mrs. Caridad Layas of Castroville informed the board that the only fields open to Filipinos are farm labor and hotel-restaurant work. This applies even to those with college degrees.

A member of the black community, Walter Brown, pointed out that a similar situation exists with the blacks.

He pointed out that there are many black college graduates and ex-Army officers who are unemployed, while some retired majors are working as orderlies.

Following the afternoon discussion of the problems of minority group members, the supervisors ordered the committee to be formed. It will consist of representatives of the Mexican-American, black, Filipino and Asian communities, a representative of the County Department Heads Association and a representative from the County Administrative office.

Correction

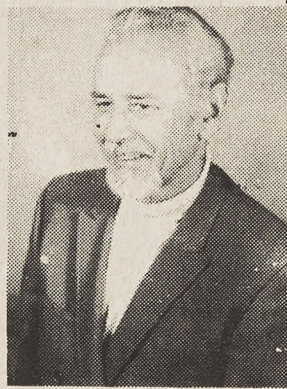

In last week's edition of The Seaside Post and News Sentinel, there appeared an article, which was written by Seaside councilman Oliver Murray, titled "Half Time on The Pit." In this article we mistakenly identified Nick Marotta as Mike Marotta. Nick Marotta is the real estate agent that Murray was referring to.

Mike Marotta, who the article said was a real estate agent, is a member of the Monterey Planning Commission and a long-time merchant on Alvarado Street in Monterey. Mike Marotta is the owner and operator of a music store, formerly known as Marotta's ABC Music Store. The store is now being remodelled and will soon be open under the name of Marotta's Pianos and Guitars. The POST and the writer, Oliver Murray, are sincerely sorry for this error. We offer our apologies to Mike Marotta for any inconvenience or embarrassment which the article may have caused.

It is very seldom that I get a chance to get away and commune with nature for any length of time. However, this weekend my wife, Jean and I, together with two other couples, were able to get away and spend three days aboard a houseboat on Shasta Lake near Redding. A man can forget how many stars there are in the sky until he looks up on a clear night in the mountains with no lights nor fog nor smog to blur the beautiful brilliant image of those billions of stars.

The quietness of the night lends itself to meditation. You meditate on how far we have all gotten away from the simple things in life. The pleasure of hearing a small animal in the dark; of seeing a deer crossing a clearing; the poignant sight of a small turtle riding downstream on his own little raft of driftwood-what sights! The turtle seemed so happy and important paying little attention to any of the things all around him, just seemingly enjoying his ride downstream.

The six of us aboard the houseboat tried for the short three days to do just as that little turtle-enjoy ourselves. It was really quite simple for three couples, six people, to live, eat, sleep, bathe, dress and carry on all of the simple functions of life on this little oversized raft. Of course there was a stove and an icebox and bunks and some other niceties which made it easier, but the fact remains that we were able to live together

Registration Ends Tomorrow

Registration for over 75 day and evening courses and institutes to be offered at Monterey Peninsula College during the summer will take place today (Thursday) and tomorrow in the MPC administration building.

Applicants will be processed days from 9 a.m. through 3 p.m., and evenings between 6:30 and 9 p.m.

The summer session, which begins June 21, is open to all residents of the college district. This includes Monterey, Pacific Grove, Carmel, Carmel Valley, Big Sur, Seaside, Fort Ord and Marina. Students must be high school graduates or 18 years of age or older and "can profit from education." Local high school students entering the twelfth grade in the fall may also enroll with written approval from their school.

Out-of-district residents must obtain a release from their own community college district and out-of-state students - except military personnel and dependents - will be charged non-resident tuition at $14 per unit. An adult tuition fee of $13 will be charged students 21 years of age and over who are taking fewer than ten class hours per week.

MPC, accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

Hold Meeting

Mothers and Others for Peace will meet Thursday, June 24, at 8 p.m. at Saint James Church, High Street, Monterey.

All are welcome. For further information call 242-6671.

Catholic Drive Is Underway

Annual Catholic Charities Appeal drives began in Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco, Monterey and four other Northern California counties Sunday, May 16.

A goal of $383,069 has been set for Alameda and Contra Costa counties, according to Bishop Floyd L. Begin of Oakland.

The funds will go to help support 17 varied health and welfare programs in the two counties, he said.

Other counties launching their appeals drives on the same day are Santa Rosa, Stockton, Sacramento and Fresno counties.

All together, more than $1.2 million is being asked from 2.5 million Catholics to support the work of Catholic charities in Northern California. Funds raised by each diocese are used exclusively to help the needy within that diocese, he said.

Bishop Begin said wage-earners among the 347,750 Catholics in the Oakland diocese will be asked to pledge a minimum of one hour's income each month to the Appeal and to spread the payments over a 12-month period.

He said such a system eliminates a multiplicity of charity drives which otherwise would be needed to support the voluntary charitable activities of the church in the east bay.

All funds collected in Oakland are used in Oakland, Monsignor John T. McCracken, director of charity, stressed. "I think it is important that our benefactors be aware that their donations are applied directly toward helping their needy or troubled East Bay neighbors," he said.

"We are making more of an effort to apply this help on a person-to-person basis," he added.

Monsignor McCracken said emphasis is being given to such programs as a home visitation service to the elderly and to families with retarded children, a program for hard-core unemployed persons, and economic and social guidance provided to minority group persons.

If the fund goal is met by May, 1972, the following charitable programs would receive funds including:

Hard core employment, $25,510; Headstart, $1,540; low-income housing, $2,440; downtown senior citizens, $1,452; Human resources development, $5,500. Also St. Rose extended care facility, $24,200; Community service, $27,720; Catholic charities, $63,448; Retarded, $31,185; Handicapped, $1,100; chaplains to hospital and institutions, $28,974. Counseling and new careers, $44,000; building, $11,000; St.

Birth League

Showing Films

Two films, "Childbirth for the Joy of It" and the Miller film on prepared childbirth, will be shown free of charge at the Monterey Public Library tomorrow (Friday) at 8 p.m.

Both films show couples preparing themselves, intellectually, emotionally, and physically for the birth of their children. The actual deliveries are shown.

The film showing is presented by the Childbirth Education League. Following the films, there will be a discussion session guided by instructors and members of the League.

The Childbirth Education League sponsors prenatal classes stressing "prepared childbirth." Their belief is that the pain and discomfort attributed to childbirth are the results of fear and tension which in turn are the results of ignorance and misinformation.

The CEL classes offer information, exercises and encouragement which prepare the couple for a dignified and unique experience. A fee is charged for the eight week course and advanced registration is necessary during the fourth or fifth month of pregnancy.

Questions about the films or prenatal classes may be directed to Mrs. Tobey Schwartz at 659-4541 or Mrs. Jennifer Ross at 372-5535.

Employment Is Rising

Total employment is higher than ever and going up in spite of the unemployment situation, even in those northern California job markets hardest hit by the economic slowdown, according to State labor analyst James M. Neto.

Neto, Manpower Analyst in San Francisco for the State Department of Human Resources Development (HRD), drew his conclusions from Area Manpower Reviews issued by his staff.

The reviews cover the 12 employment-troubled counties of San Francisco, Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Santa Mateo, Santa Clara, Solano, Napa, Sonoma, Monterey, Santa Cruz and San Benito.

"The fact is that there are net gains in most communities even those where unemployment is substantial and persistent," Neto said. "The economy is still expanding slowly--especially in the trade and services and medical fields, although not rapidly enough to keep up with the growth in the labor supply," he added.

He predicted an increase of 34,800 jobs by year's end in the 12 counties, all officially recognized as having moderate-to-substantial employment difficulties.

Two of the Reviews upon which Neto drew his conclusions were issued in April for Santa Clara, Napa and Solano counties. Another was issued in March for Monterey, Santa Cruz and San Benito counties. In January two were issued -- one for San Francisco, Marin, Contra Costa, Santa Mateo and Alameda counties, and one for Sonoma county.

All four documents, he said, are the product of thousands of hours of research, with input from "dozens of sources such as universities, governmental agencies and private firms."

The reviews, he said, are available upon request from his office. He described them as "invaluable for planning and analysis."

Airports Are Given Funds

California Director of Aeronautics Joseph R. Crotti has announced that the State Aeronautics Board has allocated $569,769.80 from the Aeronautics Fund to 132 public airports throughout California. The Salinas Municipal and King City Municipal Airports each received $5,000.

The money, for allocations to cities, counties, airport and port districts operating public airports, from the Aeronautics Fund is generated from the unrefunded Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax attributed to general aviation only and the two cents per gallon that is withheld from the Aviation Gas Tax refund.

The Aeronautics Board allocates funds annually to publicly-owned airports. A new law enacted last year increased the maximum allocation to $5,000 from the previous $2,500.

Two Candidates Withdraw as Recall Draws Near; League Holding Candidates' Night

Two candidates have withdrawn from Seaside's June 29 recall election. Although their names will appear on the ballots, Donald Likas and Floyd Davenport are no longer candidates for the city council.

Likas was running for the office of Oliver Murray, while Davenport was a candidate for the office of Gerald McGrath.

Davenport who withdrew two weeks ago, could not be reached to explain his reasons for withdrawing, but Likas told THE POST that he could not go on under the present circumstances.

"I was for the council taking over the Urban Renewal Agency," he said, "but after the recent vote of the people against such a move, I felt that I could not ride in under that sort of covering umbrella."

In other election related activities, the League of Women Voters of the Monterey Peninsula will present a candidates night at Martin Luther King Junior High School auditorium. The open meeting will be held next Monday evening June 21, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Speakers at the meeting will be introduced in groups. Each group will consist of the incumbent councilman and the candidates running for that office. Order of speaking will be determined by drawing lots just prior to the meeting.

Each person will be allowed to speak for three minutes. A timer will give a warning when half a minute remains and will indicate when time is up.

When all incumbents and candidates present have spoken, the balance of the meeting will be for questions and answers. Each answer will be limited to one minute.

Questions should be written and concern local issues, not personalities. The League asks that just one question be written on a slip of paper. A panel of League members will sort the questions and may combine similar ones. Questions of a personal nature will not be used.

All those attending the meeting will be able to meet informally and talk with the incumbents and candidates following the meeting.

More Money For Projects

Senator Alan Cranston has told a Senate appropriations subcommittee that continued delays in California public works projects because of lack of federal funding "border on fiscal irresponsibility."

He cited the Pacheco Pass tunnel and the Westlands drainage and distribution system, each of which are seven years behind schedule and the incomplete Tehama-Colusa canal, which has been sitting empty for four years.

"Delay in progress on a project," Cranston said, "lead to escalated costs, loss of tax revenues from the increased business that many projects would bring, higher unemployment and physical and social conditions that remain unimproved."

Cranston urged the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works to approve $168,750,000 requested by various California agencies for flood control, reclamation, navigation and beach erosion projects.

He noted that this amount, $34,565,000 more than proposed in the President's budget, had been recommended by the California Water Commission and the California Maritime Affairs and Navigation Conference.

"In their deliberations on these projects," Cranston said, "the CWC and the CMAAC were aware of the need for fiscal restraint. Their recommendations for increase came only after careful and conservation analysis."

Grooving Around the Peninsula

with BETTY MANN

Hi there, fellow Peninsulans:

Now that a couple weeks have passed since our "city-wide" referendum election, I think that I will be able to say something about that fiasco. As you know, the Urban Renewal Program was voted to remain in the hands of an appointed agency rather than be turned over to the elected representatives of the people—the city council. When something like this happens, a person has to wonder what kind of stranglehold the mayor has over some of the citizens of this city.

The ironic part of this past election was that the Monterey Peninsula Herald took a stand on the electoral views in Seaside by writing two editorials on the election. In one of these they tried to show the residents of our fair city what an arrogant, troublemaking mayor we have. They proposed that the citizens of Seaside get on the right track by voting "yes" on the urban renewal question. As usual, this wise professional advice and good judgement was disregarded at the polls—by a vast number most of whom didn't even bother to vote. But this doesn't mean that our mayor has won another victory. It just shows that certain professional individuals are right when they say that Seaside is a tension-ridden city, which is full of turmoil and filled to capacity with a large percentage of ill-advised, complacent people!!!

Seaside residents, is this the picture we want to present to other communities? Are you happy to hear your town spoken of in such a manner?

It was indeed gratifying to read that Pearl Carey has made a move to at least stand up and fight for what she thinks is right and fair. Whether Mrs. Carey succeeds in her fight against the constitutionality of the recall election or not, she at least is showing the public that she has guts and is not a self-complacent individual. Right on, Pearl Carey!!!

It was gratifying to see that the NAACP has chosen to take a stand in support of Mrs. Carey in the recall election matter—right on!!! But this move should have been made when the recall petitions were circulated, so that one could have been circulated for the mayor openly.

I also find it very, very upsetting that so many of our blacks, as well as certain other minorities, continue to patronize and follow the advice of a mayor, who happens to be a full pledged member of a biased and racist organization. As many of you know, Mayor Haddad is a member of the Elks club and he is not unwilling to participate in their racist happenings. For example, he had the audacity and nerve to propose that all members of the city council vote on a proclamation concerning the Elks youth day activities, while he knew that there are two black members of that council. He wanted them to approve a proclamation of an organization which they cannot even join because of that group's racist admission policies. The mayor wanted a vote on this even though none of the city's black children would be able to participate in the activities because of the rules of this racist club. Can you imagine the mayor of a city even considering the possibility of asking two black members of the city council to even consider a question involving such a racist group. How could he be so dumb to think that these two black council members would sit there and let him project this scheme on their integrity and good sense? However, knowing the uncouthness and obnoxiousness of the mayor, what else were we to expect?

There is another thing about this man that rattles this writer. How can the mayor (or any man for that matter) attempt to scandalize and ridicule a person just because that person doesn't follow his line of thinking. This is an example of the sickness, insecurity, madness for power and all the other things that allows the dictators of this world to rule. Whenever I hear a black person in this community speak in favor of the mayor, it makes me realize what our black radicals are saying: black people will never get together as long as a few keep "boosting up" and "making excuses" for the person who almost spits the racist words in their faces.

Belgian Draft Horses Coming

The jingle of harness brasses and the thud of massive hooves may make Monterey County fairgoers feel they've entered a wrong-way time capsule, come August 11 through 15.

Though the six matched Belgian draft horses on display may seem fugitives from a medieval horse fair, they'll be in the right place at the right time for they have been booked as a special event at this year's horse show, which runs concurrently with the Monterey County Fair.

James Cress, special events chairman for the coming show, has announced that the horses will appear Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for the evening shows and at both shows on Saturday and Sunday. Their appearance is co-sponsored by Sam Matar's Cypress Motors and Jeep of Monterey and the horse show's executive committee, which is headed by Pete Pedrazzi of Salinas.

The matched sorrel horses, each weighing a ton or more, will be hitched to an historic circus wagon and will perform a series of maneuvers in the arena.

When they're not performing, or being groomed for performance, the Belgians will be on display in their own special tents to be set up near the Agriculture Building. The exhibit also will include historic harnesses and other trappings of the draft horses which once drew brewery wagons, circus wagons and even performed in the circus ring.

In the heyday of the Belgian he was prized as a charger, favorite mount of the heavily-armored Christian knights who made a series of pilgrimages to the Holy Land in the 11th and 12th centuries.

The Belgians to be on display at Monterey County Fair have been appearing at fairs and exhibitions since 1960. They are owned by the Concar Ranch of San Mateo, the property of L. C. Smith, who will be at the reins in their Monterey County Fair appearances.

'Black Machine' Is No Longer Sputtering

by Ed Zurawski
Seaside High School Student

The 1970-71 school year was truly the year of the "Black Machines." This was the year that the Seaside athletic teams finally made a respectable showing. It was Seaside's finest sports year, but, more importantly, it set the foundation for many better years to come.

The year started with the Spartan "Black Machine." This Machine set the basis of a new football tradition. It needed only to beat Monterey High in the season finale to clinch Seaside's first Monterey Bay League football title. It came within three minutes of achieving that coveted victory.

But it was not to be. Over 10,000 stunned onlookers saw the dream of a title shattered on a freak play. The ball was stolen from the hands of Seaside's fullback, Charles Anderson, as he was about to throw Seaside's famous fullback pass. The intended receiver was wide open downfield, but the ball never got near him. Monterey scored on the freak mishap and went ahead to score a 14-12 victory. Still it was a great year for the Spartans, who went from last place to second in one year. Most responsible for this achievement was MBL coach of the year, Howard Hartman, who in a single season built a powerful team. He promises that next year's outcome with Monterey may not be quite so unpleasant for Seaside.

Receiving all-MBL football honors from Seaside were: Charles Anderson, (who also will play in the annual North-South Shrine game in Los Angeles), Rene Garnett, Joe Garcia and Joe McEnroe. Richmond Woodson was placed on the second team.

Basketball season was Seaside's only major sport disappointment. Winning only three games, they finished last in the MBL. But last year's star and all-California leading scorer, James Simmons, was out the better part of the year with shin splints. When he played, his former brilliance was streaky, depending upon his legs. As Simmons goes, so goes the Spartan basketball team.

As spring came to Seaside, it breathed its fresh air on another pair of Seaside winners. For the first year since its conception, Seaside fielded a winning baseball team.

After getting off to a poor start (2-6), the team held meetings with coach, Andy Gray, to iron the problems out. The rest of the season they were 7-2-1 to finish in fourth place. This year's team was filled with juniors and should look better with the addition of a new pitching machine next year.

The Spartan track team lost only one meet the entire year to finish an easy first in the MBL. Led by sprint star Tommie Harris, they were unbeatable in the sprints and relays.

Terry Williams provided power in the field events, setting new school records in the shot put. However, they fared poorly in the C.C.S. meet, finishing fifth. Harris was thought to be the lone Spartan to advance to the state meet at UCLA, but later photos showed him finishing fourth, instead of third, in the C.C.S. 100 yard dash. This dropped him from the state meet. The team was coached by Nate Dozier and the incomparable Howard Hartman. The year was good, but the coaching staff says it's only a beginning. The standard has been set. The future Spartans will be expected to do at least as well.

The feeling at Seaside is not whether we'll have a winning season any more. The coaches and athletes can now look to the championships. They can now be what everyone always thought they could be champions.

New systems that will help clean up and improve our environment are also increasing the demand for energy. With all these growing public needs in mind, our aim is to make sure there's always enough reliable energy available for everyone. That's why we are building new plants and must continue to provide for the future. And we know you really would not want it any other way.

and thoroughly enjoy ourselves in this little space.

Living in this simple uncomplicated manner made my mind wander back to when our whole family lived in a house with just one bedroom, one bathroom, one telephone and only one radio. A mother, father and four children of various ages living together happily in just this small house not much bigger than this houseboat that I'm telling you about. It makes one wonder about our present civilization and whether all of the luxuries and so-called necessities of life are really luxuries or are they really necessary. I saw this same kind of living recently in Mexico. Yes, the people were poor, but they seemed happy. They had their uncles, aunts and grandparents close and they had communication going that we here in the States have lost. They had communication with each other and through each other to a communication with God.

While going through last week's copies of the Monterey Herald, I ran across this short article by Sidney J. Harris which put into just a few words what I had been thinking about these last few days. He asks "if we are big enough to rethink and rework the very fabric of our society, so that the parts run for the sake of the whole and the whole runs for the sake of the parts. So that we are secure as persons, but free as individuals - a double task that no human society has been big enough or bold enough or good enough to tackle up to now." This is an individual effort, are you big enough?

Here is the entire Harris article:.

If you try to look around at each problem in isolation today, you can't really see what's going on; all seems to be confusion, chaos and contradiction. In Henry James' phrase, there is no "figure in the carpet."

But if you step back a few paces, and try to obtain a little perspective of time as well as distance, then you begin to see the regular pattern running through the whole carpet of contemporary problems.

And this is what I would call the revolution of relationships. There is a revolution going on today, but it is a multiple revolution, not like single revolutions of the past. The new revolution is not political, or social or economic, or moral, but a general questioning of relationships.

Every established relationship, in every significant area, is being questioned today; nothing is taken for granted. The relationships between old and young, black and white, rich and poor, man and woman, warden and prisoner, church and communicant, doctor and patient, student and teacher - in each case, reforms are not merely demanded, but the whole essential nature of the relationship is undergoing a basic reappraisal.

And this multiple revolution is, for the first time in history, a worldwide one - students in France and Japan feel at one with their fellow-students in the U.S.; churchgoers in Holland and Italy are asking the same question and grappling with the same issues as Methodists in Iowa and Presbyterians in Vermont.

It is a revolution, moreover, that goes far beyond Marxism or any other ideology of our century. It is existential in its thrust, for it questions current relationship on a personal basis. People want to belong to themselves, and not to some abstract system outside themselves; to have human life considered as an "organism," not as a mechanism.

This is what makes the movement new and uniquely different in the history of mankind, cutting across all previous lines of loyalty and authority and tradition. People are asking that, for the first time, they be defined in terms of their essential humanity, rather than as functions of society.

The revolution in relationships has no philosophy, just a faith - that we must, now and here, rethink and rework the very fabric of society, so that the parts run for the sake of the whole, and the whole runs for the sake of the parts. So that we are secure as persons, but free as individuals - a double task that no human society has been big enough or bold enough or good enough to tackle up to now.

JOHN D. ROGERS MANAGER

Letter To The Editor

Editor: How soon people seem to forget. A few years ago the people of Seaside were screaming Mayor Lou Haddad was a city dictator. Now they have a new council voting four to one against Haddad and he is still trying to rule. Those same people are saying all this council has done is fight. Don't they think four votes to one should have a little say?

I think it is about time for the rest of the council to take Haddad's words and tell him to "Sit down and shut up. We don't have to listen to you," Haddad has used these very words in many council meetings.

I think when you see that more Urban Renewal money has been spent in Seaside now than its assessed valuation one could see something is wrong. Then take a look at how much they owe on bonds and ect.

I moved out of Seaside when Urban Renewal took everything I had, I had lived there more than 25 years.

Now you have a council and a chance to find out some of these things and change them, so get behind them, keep them in office and give them a chance. All I can say is if you don't, then you deserve what you get.

Bob Wood Reports

If you agree or don't agree with the statement made recently by the State Social Welfare Board, I'd appreciate a postcard letting me know your opinions since the Legislature have to vote on the following issue some day.

The State Social Welfare Board, after listening to testimony in several public hearings by both management and organized labor, stated that there was an expressed concern by public and county government about paying public assistance (welfare payments, food stamps etc.) to those who were out of work because they were participating in a strike involving a union dispute. The Board mentioned that based on information supplied by county welfare directors over $1,225,000 in public money was paid to strikers. This was in only five counties.

The hearings brought out the fact that, in general, labor's position rested on the point that denying aid to otherwise eligible strikers results in discrimination against individuals exercising their rights at collective bargaining.

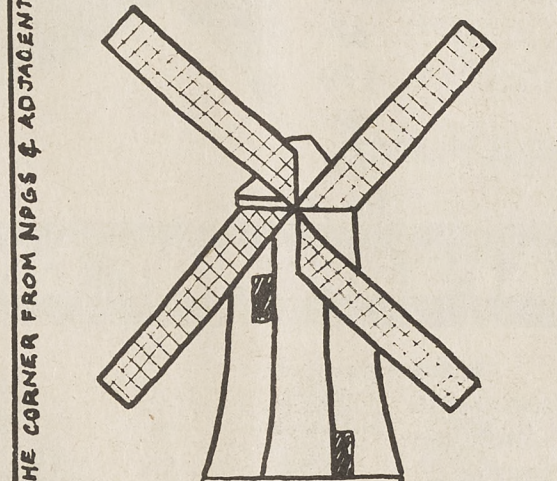

On the other hand, management attempts to refute this position by suggesting that a striker is voluntarily unemployed and cites the fact that a striking employee remains an employee of the struck employer and as such, still has seniority rights and also retains medical and other benefits.

The report notes that termination dates of labor contracts are usually known far in advance and negotiations usually begin early because of this. The Board says public assistance payments should be denied to any applicant who is unemployed as a result of exercising his or her own decisions and who voluntarily participates in a trade dispute. It is interesting to note the State Social Welfare Board, made up of twelve members, includes two Senators and two Assemblymen.

OPEN DAILY Home of the HOAGIE

As I See It

By Mel Vercoe
(Formerly WHO CARES)

Juan Corona was unhappy that his request for welfare was turned down, so now he finally got his welfare. The State of California taxpayers will furnish him and his family food, clothing, shelter, medical and dental care, and none of them will have to worry about employment or how to pay the rent or Blue Cross payments. A few years from now some weak-minded judge will declare Juan Corona fit to rejoin society and poor Juan will have to go to work again, but in the meantime he is way ahead of most of us - he doesn't have to come home from work so tired he can hardly walk and he doesn't have to risk his life on a highway going to work.

Juan had a fairly good thing going for a little while. He was in the business of contracting labor and he found a way to increase business. It wasn't exactly ethical, like a guy in the tire repair business throwing roofing nails on the highway in front of his shop, but it worked. There was more call for labor because he was very efficient and systematically removing some of his competition, the drifters who occasionally worked to get a few dollars in their pockets. Juan won't be executed for his crimes. He will be excused, because he is mentally unstable and he will live in comparative comfort in a mental institution until released to rejoin his family. And even if he was found perfectly sane, he wouldn't be executed. Execution is "barbaric," whereas murdering 25 men with a club and a gun is not, and our modern society is appalled no end at the thought of doing anything barbaric.

So this modern society of ours, so terribly concerned about the taking of a human life, not the victim's life so much as the killer's life, likes to pretend it is all out gung ho about humanity and the sanctity of human life and limb. Horsefeathers. Except for on the surface we don't care in the least about human life. Time after time we vote to return congressmen and senators to office - men who we know are committed to supporting a war that is killing thousands, hundreds of thousands of people whose only crime was to be found living in the wrong place at the wrong time. And almost half of us "deeply concerned citizens" don't even bother to vote at all. A few scattered individuals may, but not our own society or any other well-organized society that in its own way is making a pretense of being "civilized".

And out of it all a few basic notes come to light. (1) So far, nobody has thought to consider what a murder victim's views might be about capital punishment for murder (or genocide). (2) There has never been a case recorded where a murderer committed another crime after he was executed, whereas many murderers today are committed by men who were paroled after conviction or who were released on technical points although obviously guilty.

Ave Maria
Convalescent Hospital

This is the only Catholic Convalescent Hospital on the Monterey Peninsula. It is conducted by the Franciscan Sisters for men and women. They are located on Josselyn Canyon Road, away from the noisy city traffic.

They have a completely equipped convalescent hospital to take care of patients in the most effective manner. Each room has a large window with a picture setting painted by nature's own artist, a little bit of heaven on earth.

Nourishing and appetizing food is attractively served, and its purity and wholesomeness is assured by the watchful care of trained personnel. This hospital is open to all races and creeds and makes every effort to take care of a patient's spiritual and physical needs.

The very best of attention is given to all patients entrusted to the care of the Ave Maria Convalescent Hospital and they are very conscientious in seeing that no one is lacking in the conveniences they should have. A cheery air of happiness prevails, and the guests find their home very clean and comfortable. The management invites your inspection at any time of the facilities of the restful Ave Maria Convalescent Hospital.

MPC Students Honor Seaside Policeman

For an entire week, signs reading "Monday is Bill Stallworth Day" peppered the Monterey Peninsula College campus.

The signs seemed to be the work of students. Faculty and staff members wondered what they meant.

Since Bill Stallworth is the campus policeman and students of the 70's don't like cops, could it mean that Monday was the day the students planned to "get" the man who bawls them out, gives them parking tickets, throws them out of rock concerts when they show up with alcohol and drugs and in general gives them a bad time?

Or could it be that the students were planning to honor Stallworth in some way?

The latter turned out to be true.

On Monday, June 7, a group of students lured Stallworth to the lower lounge of the Colife Center. They had festooned the room with streamers and had a large cake and pile of gifts ready. At the policeman's appearance, they all broke into the "Happy Birthday" song.

Stallworth was overwhelmed. Cradling his gifts which included an immense piggy bank, a watch and a bottle of after-shave lotion the 51-year-old, grizzled-haired, retired Army MP marveled that "some of the kids I have bawled out most were there, singing the loudest."

He glanced at one of the birthday cards he had received with the gifts. "What this old world needs," it read, "is more nice people like you."

"Your see" he said.

"Youngsters aren't so bad after all. My advice to the elders who think they are: just listen to what they have to say. They're entitled to their opinions, just as you are. And remember how you were when you were their age."

Maybe this thinking of his is why the students at MPC believed the world needs more nice people like Bill Stallworth, cop.

Five Seaside Men Enlist

Five men from the Seaside area volunteered for service with the United States Army during the month of May, according to Sergeant Jose Garcia, U.S. Army recruiter for the Monterey Peninsula.

All five enlisted for specific training in the field of their choice or assignment location. Artise O. Stewart of 1531 Soto Street, a former Army Staff Sergeant, returned to serve in the Medical Field in the same rank he held upon discharge. He has been assigned to Vietnam.

Laron D. Hall of 1915 Yosemite Street, also a former Army Sergeant, returned with the same rank and was assigned to STRATCOM Headquarters, Honolulu, Hawaii.

William A. Evans, 1292 Waring Street, enlisted for airborne training and after training will be assigned to Airborne duties.

Jerry W. Foster of 3060 Sunset Drive, in Marina will be serving in the Aircraft Maintenance Field after completion of basic training.

Hector R. Cortez, 3106 Crescent Avenue, Marina, will be trained in the repair of quartermaster heavy equipment after basic training.

Persons interested in enlistment opportunities available in the United States Army should contact Garcia at 372-4742 or stop by 431 Webster Street in Monterey for further information.

Rate Stable

California's unemployment rate in May was 7.4 percent—unchanged from April — a top Reagan administration official announced recently.

The official, Alan C. Nelson, Acting Director Department of Human Resources Development, said the rate is "still much too high for us to take any satisfaction from the fact that it held even with last month."

"The rate is of little comfort to those of our citizens without jobs," he said.

Nelson said HRD's latest survey showed that, while unemployment rose by 7,000 between April and May to 601,000 employment rose by 60,000 to a total civilian employment of 8,050,000.

The total labor force, he added, consisting of the employed and the unemployed looking for work totaled 8,651,000 in May, up from 8,584,000 in April.

Agriculture accounted for 36,000 of the additional jobs in May, Nelson said, with trade in second place with another 10,000 jobs, followed by construction with another 7,000 jobs.

Employment in manufacturing was virtually unchanged from the April figure, Nelson added.

Book Grants Awarded

Nine Monterey Peninsula College students have been announced as winners of book grants awarded annually by members of the MPC humanities division.

The students, who will receive the grants at the beginning of the fall semester to help defray costs of textbooks, are: Jack Czarnieck, Bob Stanton and Phil Williams of Monterey; Mark Thompson of Carmel; Maxine Fikes, Jerry Jeter and Tom Winter of Seaside; Karen King of Marina and Jacqueling Jauregui of Pebble Beach.

In notifying the recipients, Alleye Fabrizio, chairman of the awards committee, told them their grants were composed of voluntary contributions by members of the division "to express our interest and encouragement to students such as you."

"You were recommended by a division member to the committee, which awarded grants to students showing achievement and promise in humanities."

240Z Trying For Third Win of Year

Driving a new Datsun 240Z at Laguna Seca, Walt Maas of Mountain View recently picked up his second win in C production.

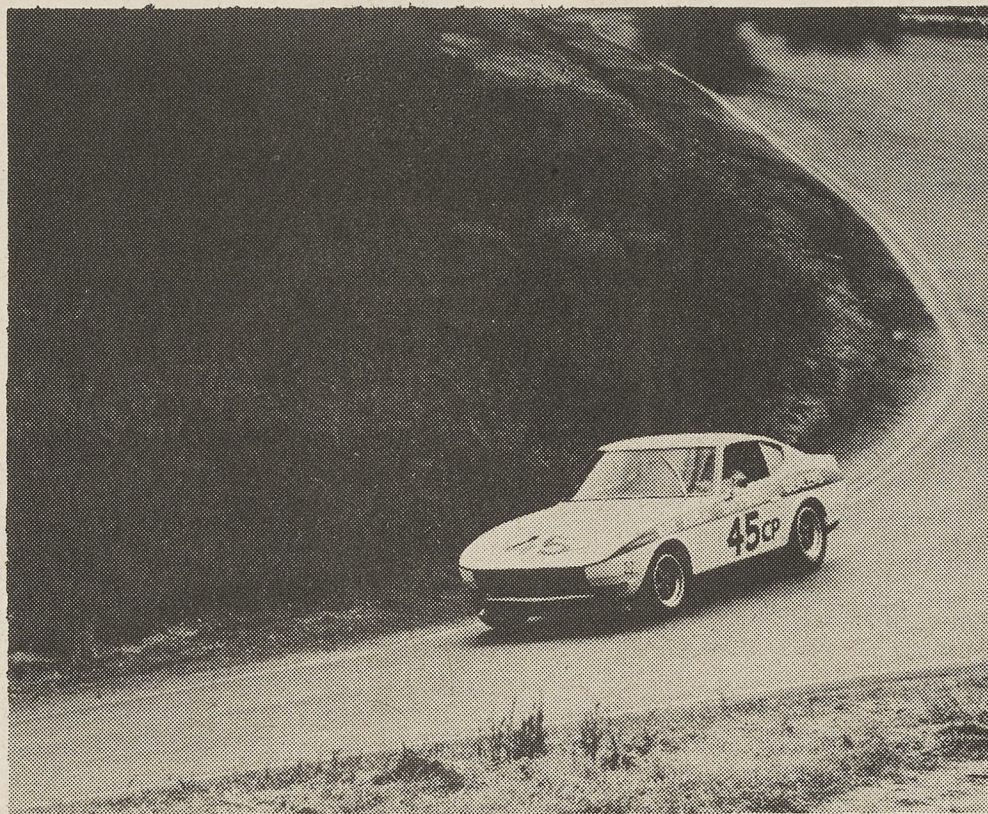

Walt is the Team Manager for the entry which is sponsored by Monterey and San Francisco Bay Area Datsun Dealers. It is the first time in road racing that a regional group of car dealers has sponsored their own racing machine in national SCCA competition.

Maas' first win in the 240Z was also at Laguna Seca during the L&M Grand Prix, May 1-2, when he ran away from all comers to take first in class and the overall checkered.

For the past five years, Walt Maas has been one of California's top production Porsche pilots. Now, with one of the most potent sports cars to enter racing in many a year to take the C production laurels during the Olympia Sprint this weekend at Laguna Seca.

Maas' main competition in the Laguna nationals will undoubtedly come from the East-Brophy factory Triumph TR-6 driven by Lee Mueller of Lynwood, California.

Mueller will be a worthy opponent, since he has been Pacific Division Champion in 1965, 1967, 1969, 1970. He was also 1969 National Cham-

What Is Best Way To Get Rid Of Old Cars?

Old cars piled up in a junkyard, shoved off a country road or abandoned on a city street have become a nationwide problem during the past decade.

Before that, they were in demand as scrap metal, but prices of scrap metal began to decline when steel-makers switched from open-hearth furnaces to basic oxygen furnaces which need less scrap metal.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare reports that about 12 to 20 million abandoned cars accumulated during the 1960's and that, of the eight million discarded this year, at least one million will be added to the backlog.

Governmental agencies and scrap industry executives see no easy solution to the problem.

Many states are considering adding a disposal tax or fee to the purchase price of a car, with some legislators suggesting amounts up to $100.

In Traverse City, Michigan, the General Motors Corporation, instituted an experimental program which resulted in getting rid of 3,100 abandoned cars in the resort community.

The project's success was such that General Motors is preparing a booklet to be distributed to Chambers of Commerce explaining how the experiment can be copied elsewhere. Cost of disposing of each car was estimated at $5.

In the Traverse City experiment, General Motors discovered that just locating the cars in an area of 20 square miles required a military-type operation made up of teams of men who swept through the area.

Local residents and civic groups joined in the hunt, canvassing neighborhoods to find abandoned cars. Local towing companies were paid $10 a vehicle to collect and transport cars to one site where a portable car crusher could flatten 100 cars daily into 18-inch mattresses.

These were then shipped by truck to a processor in Chicago and shredded for feeding steel furnaces.

Another experiment is underway in Maryland where a $1 fee is paid every time a person transfers title to a car. Using these fees, the state pays scrap processors $10 for every car they bring in, a bounty that encourages auto wreckers to bring in abandoned cars even when they can make a little from the spare parts.

Reverse commute experiments help inner-city residents get better-paying jobs in the suburbs, according to a government-sponsored study which began in 1968.

The Stanford Research Institute, which made the study for the Urban Mass Transportation Administration of the United States Department of Transportation, said that bus routes reversing the traditional suburbs-to-the-city runs can also benefit transit companies willing to absorb initial losses.

"The inner-city worker, or potential worker," the report said, "finds it difficult to obtain these new suburban jobs because he often does not own an automobile and there usually is no public transportation connecting the inner-city to the suburban job sites."

The experiments, which are being continued, have thus far involved demonstration runs in 14 cities, mostly in the East Midwest. Los Angeles is the only Pacific Coast city included.

The report said that two-thirds of the "reverse commute" experiments have resulted in permanent routes for local transit firms, adding 2.5 million miles to the nation's mass transit systems.

Dangerous

A nationally known safety authority, Don Costa of the Allstate Insurance Companies, recently stressed the danger of leaving children unattended in cars with power windows.

The possibilities for injury or death through strangulation are obvious. "Have a mechanic adjust the wiring," he said, "so that the windows cannot operate unless the ignition switch is on."

Insurance Exec Supports Strong Bumper Legislation

One of the state's largest insurance companies has announced its support for proposed legislation which would require auto manufacturers to put stronger bumpers on cars sold in California.

"We urge every motorist to support SB 42 which requires energy-absorbing devices to be on all cars sold in California after January, 1973," Richard V. Patton, vice president-general manager of the Inter-Insurance Bureau of the California State Automobile Association, said.

"If this bill is enacted it will reduce auto repair costs substantially and it will enable auto insurance companies to reduce their premiums on collision coverage by as much as 20 percent," Patton said.

The "fragility" of the modern automobile, a combination of protruding and vulnerable sheet metal and bumpers that afford no protection even in extremely low speed crashes, accounts for costly automobile repairs and consequently high insurance premiums, according to Patton.

Most late-model automobiles sustain damages amounting to $250-$400 even in a five mile per hour "parking lot" type collision, Patton stated.

The high cost is accounted for by both the price of replacement parts which have gone up 50 percent in the last five years and by labor which has gone up an average of nine percent each year in the last five years.

"Over $4 billion is spent each year in the United States repairing cars that have been damaged in low-speed crashes," Patton said. "$350 million is spent for bumper replacement alone."

Despite all the attention which has been directed to the fragility of the modern automobile recently, the situation is not getting any better, Patton said. The most recent crash figures show that the 1971 cars are 40 to 50 percent more expensive to repair than the 1970 models.

"We have the technology now to produce an energy-absorbing device which would eliminate damage in crashed of five miles per hour and which would also lessen the damage done to the other vehicle in the crash," Patton said.

The State Department of Parks and Recreation's new general folder, which lists, describes and locates the nearly 170 state-operated parks and recreation areas throughout California, is now available.

It is titled, "The California State Park System."

Parks and Recreation Director William Penn Mott, Jr., explains that the map-type folder replaces the old magazine-style brochure that had been in use by the department for many years.

It folds into a compact four-by-nine inch packet that fits handily into a pocket or glove compartment but opens to show a 24x36" map of the state and its park system.

One unique feature of the folder is the division of the State Park System map into six recreation regions: Redwoods, Northern Coast, Southern Coast, Northern Inland and Sierra, Central Inland and Southern Inland.

Each park is listed and its facilities are described on a chart which is keyed to the map.

Single folders may be obtained free at any state park unit or by writing to the State Department of Parks and Recreation, P. O. Box 2390, Sacramento, Ca. 95811. Additional copies may be purchased for 5 cents each plus shipping, and for California residents 5 percent sales tax.

Temper, Temper!

The bad temper of an automobile driver is the main cause of his lack of concentration which frequently leads to accidents.

So says Dr. Keith E. Jolles, who is author of "Are You Fit To Drive?" He has made car accidents his special study.

The British doctor says an accident may arise from a heated argument with a passenger, from the rage which is incited by another driver, or from such an incident as the driver's wife sending him off to work in the morning without a loving kiss.

Dr. Jolles says in his book that the man with a marriage problem on his mind can constitute a grave traffic risk.

The book lists statistics on accidents, such as that the average accident happens when a car is traveling below 30 miles an hour and occurs within 10 miles of home.

In 1968, a total of 6,148 accidents in Britain were the result of excessive speed, according to the book.

Three times as many learners (4,770) as drunken drivers (1,408) were concerned in accidents.

Dogs caused 467 accidents in 1968.

The third day of a driving vacation is the most dangerous, says Dr. Jolles.

SECTION 1. Under the provisions of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended, the Housing and Home Finance Administrator is authorized to provide financial assistance to Local Public Agencies for undertaking and carrying out urban renewal projects.

SECTION 2. It is provided in such Act that contracts for financial aid hereunder shall require that the Urban Renewal Plan for the respective project area be approved by the governing body of the local public agency in which the project is situated and that such approval include findings by the governing body that: (1) the financial aid to be provided in the contract is necessary to enable the project to be undertaken in accordance with the Urban Renewal Plan; (2) the Urban Renewal Plan will afford maximum opportunity for the project to be carried out in accordance with the sound needs of the locality as a whole; for the rehabilitation or redevelopment of the urban area; and (3) the Urban Renewal Plan conforms to a general plan for the development of the locality as a whole; and (4) the Urban Renewal Plan gives consideration to the provision of parks and recreational areas and facilities, as may be desirable for the improvement, with special consideration for the health, safety, and welfare of children residing in the general vicinity of the site covered by the Plan.

SECTION 3. The Redevelopment Agency of the City of Seaside (hereinafter called the "Local Public Agency") has entered into a planning contract for financial assistance under such Act with the United States of America, acting by and through the Housing and Home Finance Administrator, pursuant to which Federal funds were made available for the Urban Renewal Project (hereinafter called the "Project") located in the Neighborhood Development Program, Laguna Grande Area (being the Amended Plan of said Project) and encompassing the area in the City of Seaside, County of Monterey, State of California, (hereinafter called the "Locality") described as appears on pages 1, 2, and 3 of Exhibit A attached hereto.

SECTION 4. The Local Public Agency has applied for financial assistance under such Act and proposed to enter into a contract or contracts with the Housing and Home Finance Agency for the undertaking of, and for making available financial assistance for the Project.

SECTION 5. The Local Public Agency has made detailed studies of the location, physical condition of structures, and use, environmental influences, social, cultural, and economic conditions of the Project Area and has determined that the area is a blighted area and that it is detrimental and a menace to the safety, health, and welfare of the inhabitants and users thereof and of the Locality at large, because of widespread dilapidation, substandard dwellings, overcrowding, lack of adequate facilities, inadequate lot sizes, and other factors establishing dilapidation and need for rehabilitation, and the members of the governing body have been fully apprised by the Local Public Agency and are aware of these facts and conditions.

SECTION 6. There has been prepared and referred to the City Council of the City of Seaside (hereinafter called the "governing body") for review and approval a revised Urban Renewal Plan for the Project Area, consisting of 22 pages and 4 exhibits.

SECTION 7. Said Urban Renewal Plan, as revised, has been approved by the governing body of the Local Public Agency, as evidenced by the copy of said body's duly certified resolution approving said revised Urban Renewal Plan, which is attached thereto.

SECTION 8. A general plan has been prepared and is recognized and used as a guide for the general development of the Locality as a whole.

SECTION 9. The Planning Commission, which is the duly designated and acting official planning body for the Locality, has submitted to the governing body its report and recommendations relative to said revised Urban Renewal Plan for the Project Area and has certified that said revised Urban Renewal Plan conforms to the said general plan for the Locality as a whole, and the governing body has duly considered said report, recommendations, and certification of the planning body.

SECTION 10. Said revised Urban Renewal Plan for the Project Area prescribes certain land uses for the Project Area and will require among other things a change in Project Boundary Line on Del Monte Boulevard, from the City Limits of Seaside and Monterey to Canyon Del Rey Boulevard, from the existing east right of way of Del Monte Boulevard to the West right of way of Del Monte Boulevard, and at Fremont Boulevard, from Charles Avenue to Trinity Avenue, from the existing West right of way of Fremont Boulevard to the East right of way line between Charles and Trinity, changes in zoning, the vacating and removal of streets, alleys and other public ways, the establishment of new street patterns, the location and relocation of sewer and water mains and other public facilities, and other public action.

SECTION 11. The Local Public Agency has prepared and submitted a program for the relocation of families that may be displaced as a result of carrying out the Project in accordance with said revised Urban Renewal Plan.

SECTION 12. There have also been prepared to the governing body information and data respecting the relocation program which has been prepared by the Local Public Agency as a result of studies, surveys, and inspections in the Project Area and the assembling and analyzing of the data and information obtained from such studies, surveys, and inspections.

SECTION 13. The members of the governing body have general knowledge of the conditions prevailing in the Locality for the relocation of families that may be displaced to the Project Area, and in the light of such knowledge of local housing conditions, have carefully considered, and reviewed such proposals for relocation.

SECTION 14. It is necessary that the governing body take appropriate official action respecting the relocation program and said revised Urban Renewal Plan for the Project Area, in conformity with the contract(s) for financial assistance between the Local Public Agency and the United States of America, acting by and through the Housing and Home Finance Administrator.

SECTION 15. The governing body is cognizant of the conditions that are imposed in the undertaking and carrying out of urban renewal projects under Federal financial assistance under

LEGAL NOTICE

Title 1, including those prohibiting discrimination because of race, color, creed, or national origin with respect to housing, facilities related to residential, commercial, and industrial uses within a project area, public facilities proposed as non-cash local grants-in-kind, and employment.

SECTION 16. It is hereby found and determined by the City Council of the City of Seaside, in accordance with the Community Redevelopment Law of the State of California (Health and Safety Code, Section 33000 et seq.), that:

(a) The project area is a blighted area, the redevelopment of which is necessary to effectuate the public purposes declared in said Community Redevelopment Law, and qualifies as an eligible Project Area.

(b) The revised redevelopment plan would develop the area in conformity with said Law and in the interests of the public peace, health, safety, and welfare.

(c) The adoption and carrying out of the revised redevelopment plan is economically sound and feasible.

(d) The revised redevelopment plan conforms to the general plan of the community.

(e) The carrying out of the revised redevelopment plan will promote the public peace, health, safety, and welfare of the community and would effectuate the purposes and policy of said Law.

(f) The condemnation of real property, provided for in the redevelopment plan, is necessary to the execution of the revised redevelopment plan and adequate provisions have been made for payment for property to be acquired by eminent domain.

(g) The program of the Local Public Agency for the proper relocation of the families displaced in carrying out the acceptable standards is feasible and can be reasonably and timely effected to permit the proper prosecution and completion of the Project; and that such dwelling or dwelling units available to be made available to such displaced families are at least equal in number to the number of displaced families, are not generally less desirable in regard to public utilities and commercial facilities than the dwellings of the displaced families in the Project Area, are available at rents or prices within the financial means of the displaced families, and are reasonably accessible to their places of employment.

(h) The revised Urban Renewal Plan for the Urban Renewal Area gives due consideration to the provisions of adequate park and recreational areas and facilities, as may be desirable for neighborhood improvement, with special consideration for the health, safety, and welfare of children residing in the general vicinity of the site covered by the Plan.

(i) The revised Urban Renewal Plan for the Urban Renewal Area will afford maximum opportunity, consistent with the sound needs of the Locality as a whole, for the rehabilitation or redevelopment of the urban area by private enterprise.

(j) The objectives of the revised Urban Renewal Plan can be achieved through more extensive rehabilitation of the Project Area.

(k) The financial aid provided and to be pursuant to said contract(s) for Federal financial assistance pertaining to the Project is necessary to enable the Project to be undertaken in accordance with the revised Urban Renewal Plan for the Project Area.

SECTION 17. The City Council of the City of Seaside is satisfied permanent housing facilities will be available within three years from the time occupancy of the Project Area is displaced and that pending the development of such facilities there will be available to such displaced occupants adequate temporary housing facilities at rents comparable to those in the community at the time of their displacement.

SECTION 18. Said revised Urban Renewal Plan for the Project area mentioned, having been duly reviewed and considered, is hereby approved and designated as the official redevelopment plan of the Project Area, and copy of said Plan is attached hereto, marked Exhibit A, and incorporated herein by reference.

SECTION 19. In order to implement and facilitate the execution of the revised Urban Renewal Plan hereby approved, it is found and determined that certain official action must be taken by this body with reference, among other things to changes in zoning, the vacating and removal of streets, alleys and other public ways, the establishment of new street patterns, the location and relocation of sewer and water mains and other public facilities, and other public action, and, according to this body hereby (a) pledges its cooperation in helping to carry out such revised Urban Renewal Plan; (b) requests the various officials, departments, boards, and agencies of the Locality having administrative responsibilities in the premises likewise to cooperate to such end and to exercise their respective functions and powers in a manner consistent with said revised Urban Renewal Plan; and (c) stands ready to consider and take appropriate action upon proposals and measures designed to effectuate said revised Urban Renewal Plan.

SECTION 20. Financial assistance under the provisions of Title I of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended, is necessary to enable the land in the Project Area to be renewed in accordance with the revised Urban Renewal Plan for the Project Area and, accordingly, the filing by the Local Public Agency of an application or applications for such financial assistance under said Title I is hereby approved.

All ordinances or resolutions or parts of ordinances or resolutions in conflict herewith are hereby repealed insofar as the conflict with this ordinance.

This ordinance shall be published once after its passage in the Seaside POST News-Sentinel and shall be in force and take effect thirty (30) days from and after its passage and approval.

INTRODUCED this 15th day of April, 1971.

PUBLIC HEARINGS held the 15th day of April, and 6th day of May, 1971. PASSED AND ADOPTED at a Regular Meeting of the City Council of the City of Seaside duly held on the 3rd day of June, 1971, by the following vote:
